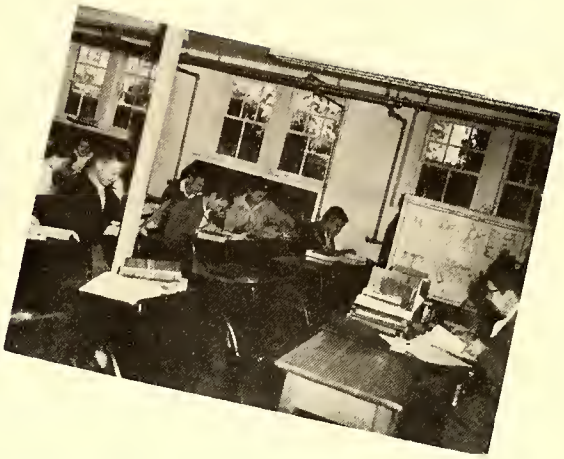
SNAPSHOTS



We, the Seniors of '53, have many memories. Some—winning an exciting football game, giving our Junior play, working at the concession stands, and especially seeing our basketball girls win the trophy three consecutive years—are pleasant; and some—failing a six weeks' Latin test—are not. Our memories could be divided into four distinct periods: memories of our Freshman, Sophomore, Junior, and Senior years.

How well we remember our Freshman year! Were we ever scared! No one knew what was going on; all seventy-nine of us signed up for the same classes, so we could stick together. Our homeroom teachers, Mrs. Wagner, Mr. Boose, and Mr. Williams, soon made us feel at home. Since new buildings were being added, we didn't get to have a Halloween Carnival, but we vowed we would work twice as hard the next year.

By the time we were Sophomores, we weren't considered so "green" anymore and were being accepted more each day by the upperclassmen. Although our King and Queen candidates didn't win, the Sophomores knew that C. W. Allen and Josephine Miller represented our class well. At the end of the year we really became excited. Next year we would be Juniors!

What a busy year! Firsr of all there was the R. E. A. Picnic. Every Junior would have vowed and declared that he or she personally wrapped two hundred sandwiches for the occasion. To take the lead in the busy year ahead, we elected Harrell Powell as president of the class.

"Showboat" will always ring a bell with us, for this was the theme of our Junior-Senior This momentous affair was held at the Cavalier Room in Winston-Salem. Next came our Junior play, "Dollars to Doughnuts". We thought it was a success whether anyone else did or not. Marshals were picked later with Mary Sue Rankin earning the title of "Chief." One of our more exciting days was the day we ordered our class rings. We chose a red stone this time and changed the design on the sides. During our Junior year we saw our Queen, Carmen Greene, crowned, with our King candidate, Douglas Daniel, coming in for a mighty close second.

The next autumn of '52 we entered Mocksville High School for our last year. Mrs. Crenshaw was our Senior advisor. We welcomed to our class Keith Tutterow, whom we immediately elected president; along with Johnie Hodgson, Vice-President; Josephine Miller, Secretary; and Billie Harmon, Treasurer. Hi Life this year was also edited by Billie Harmon, while Carmen Greene was given the tremendous task of editing the Mocksvillian. This year Linnie Brown and Farrell Cohen were our candidates for King and Queen. Well we remember the day a representative of the Curtis Publishing House came to talk to us. For the next three weeks the Seniors canvassed the neighborhood selling magazines. Our effort was rewarded, however, when we exceeded our $1,000 quota. Special honors this year went to Harrell Powell, who was elected president of the Student Council; to Johnie Hodgson, who was chosen the most valuable football player; and to Ivey Nell Bowles, who was given a free trip to Charlotte for her work in the 4-H Club.

Yes, now our wonderful school days are over. Always we will remember our wonderful times together. We also will remember our teachers—our disagreements with them and how they influenced us. Always we will remember M. H. S., and always it will hold a special place in our hearts.

PROPHECY

The whistle blows—the brakes scream—and the huge ninety car diesel comes to a screeching stop. Picking myself up from the floor, I muttered to myself that TOM MERONEY, the engineer, was up to his old tricks again. Regaining my composure, I once more became my dignified self as the position of President of the Ringing Brothers Barnum and Bailey, and POWELL Circus demanded, I walked to the back platform of the train to address the huge throng which had gathered to welcome us here—back to our old home town.

The first face I saw as I began my speech was that of Mrs. Crenshaw, our old Senior advisor, accompanied by the officers of the Senior Class who were: President, Everette Kelly; Vice-President, P. C. Grubbs; Secretary, Betty Kimbrough; Treasurer, Jane Roland. Another face I was glad to see was that of BETTY LOU COPE, who brought along her own delegation—her ten children who kept themselves and Betty Lou busy by tugging at her skirt.

After I finished my speech, the Circus Band, led by JIMMY ANDERSON, rendered a few choice selections. Then we all journeyed to the famous Masonic Picnic Grounds. The huge job of putting up the mightiest of "Big Tops" was skillfully directed by chief carpenter and rigger, JIMMY BOLES.

By 5:30 P. M. the huge tent was completely filled because CARMEN GREENE, our publicity manager, had done such an outstanding job and because Mocksville had grown into a metropolis of half a million people. Before the performance started at eight, the people entertained themselves by reading the circus programs made famous by that well known editor—BILLIE HARMON, and listening to those "tear-jerker" songs rendered by that "romantic" young singer, FARRELL COHEN.

Then at eight the big moment came. CHARLES WILLIAMS, the circus electrician, swung the huge spotlight to the middle of the center ring, where the Ringmaster, none other than EVERETTE SAIN, was wairing to start the show. When the thunderous applause had subsided, he introduced BETTY and LETTY IJAMES, the Flying Twins—bareback riders. Following in an endless procession of great talent came these acts: "Punkin's Puppets", with JIMMY TAYLOR doing the undercover work. Sound effects were supplied by HOWARD SAIN, who was certainly well adapted for the job, because when we were in M. H. S. together, the sounds he made certainly had an effect on the teachers. Then came those daring trapeze artists, "Pee Wee" (C. W. ALLEN) and LINNIE BROWN. "Pee Wee" hung by one toe and held Linnie with his little finger. You don't have to worry about his dropping her—it's just like when they were at M. H. S., you couldn't pry them apart.

The next act really thrilled the crowd. It featured EVELYN GRIFFIN'S Famous Hawaiian Hula Dancers. Evelyn was the star and had a 3-gal chorus, featuring PEGGY BECK, ELAINE ALLEN, and MADELINE BOGER.

Another old classmate of mine, CLARA SUE FORREST, was featured in the next act. She lay flat on her back and let a huge 10-ton elephant hold its foot 1 inch above her head. This seemingly perilous act wasn't too dangerous, for these elephants had been trained by that world famous elephant trainer, J. C. "Jungle-boy" HUTCHINS. J. C. had never had any trouble with the elephants until a few weeks ago, when the elephants pulled a sit-down strike. They absolutely refused to work for peanuts. The circus veterinarian, KENNETH LANIER, soon had them back on the jobs.

Then came the clowns, ROY CALL and KEITH TUTTEROW. They brought the house down, because their faces were made up so hideously by that famous make-up artist BETTY SPENCER. Their funny costumes were designed by our renowned wardrobe mistress, JO ANN CALL.

The next thrilling act featured GEORGE HAIRE riding a motorcycle through a blazing inferno, created by research chemist for the circus Miss MARY SUE RANKIN. Through her chemistry knowledge, she made a compound of liquid dynamite, gasoline, and hydrogen, with a few uranium atoms thrown in for good measure.

The nexr act featured ANN DEAN ROBERTSON with her thrilling tight wire act.

Followed by this was "Josephine" the Flying Machine. JOSEPHINE MILLER was shot out of a cannon into a net 200 yards away. When she landed, she appeared a little shaken up, so the circus physician, Dr. DOUGLAS DANIEL, rushed to the scene. Arriving there, however, he found she was quite all right.

That was the last act, so ELLEN ALLEN, the circus chaplain, moved ro the center ring and closed the performance with a prayer.

During the performance the crowd enjoyed hot dogs prepared by PHYLLIS GREENE, the circus chef, and sold by chief vendors, JERRYLENE VICK and JULIA WRIGHT. SYLVIA BALL was on hand doing a bang-up job of selling peanuts.

On the way out many stopped to see KATHRYN SMITH, rhe fortune teller, who is just like she was at M. H. S., sees all, knows all, and tells all. Others visited our side shows where they could see AUBREY FLEMING, the giant, who had grown another foot since he was a Senior at M. H. S., and DONALD SMITH, the fat man, who had also grown another foot—straight out! JOHNIE HODGSON, the world's champion weight-lifter, was also giving a demonstration there.

DEAN MURRAY and his "Leach" circus was also on exhibit in the side show. It used to be Dean Murray and his flea circus, bur he changed it for "obvious" reasons.

Before morning we were packed up and on the train ready to leave. The last one on the train, as usual, was LLOYD FARTHING, rhe circus handyman.

Sleepily, I walked on to my private car. On the way, to the traveling office car, I saw IVEY NELL BOWLES counting the night's receipts. She calmly informed me that I was working on my 30th billion. I told her not to bore me with such trifling details.

I went to sleep happy that morning, because I knew all my former classmates and I were glad ro get back for a visit in our old home town.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

We, the members of the Senior Class of 1953, realizing that we must leave our beloved high school, do hereby proclaim this to be our Last Will and Testament.

I, Charlie Wilson Allen, will my title of "Pee Wee" to any boy without a nickname.
I, Elaine Christine Allen, will my blushes to those unlucky people who are easily embarrassed.
I, Ellen Camilla Allen, leave my ability to lose weight to those who need to take advantage of it.
I, James Neil Anderson, will my bus to R. C. Dyson and hope he has better luck with it than I have had.
I, Sylvia Joyce Ball, bequeath my ability to always find something to say to Betty Ann Harpe if it will help her to talk teachers out of giving so many tests.
I, Peggy Ann Beck, will my brown eyes and friendly smile to Nancy Cheshire.
I, Madeline Janett Boger, will my power to do things and get by with them to the rising seniors.
I, James Leonard Boles, will my curly hair to Robert Latham to add to his own.
I, Ivey Nell Bowles, will my position in the 4-H Club to Reba Ann Furches, provided she works as hard as I have.
I, Linnie Crater Brown, leave my power to keep the same boy friend to Mary Louise Bailey.
I, Jo Ann Call, leave my quiet way of doing things to Eva Lee Strider.
I, Roy Weston Call, Jr., leave my tricks and wise cracks to Harvey Lee Harris.
I, Teddy Farrell Cohen, bequeath my ability to sing like Johnny Ray to George Winters.
I, Betty Lou Cope, leave my typing ability to Nancy Murph.
I, Douglas Curtis Daniel, will my title of "best looking" to Johnny Braswell.
I, Lloyd Dudley Farthing, will my habit of keeping the girls supplied with chewing gum to the boys who like to have lots of girl friends.
I, Aubrey Merrill Fleming, leave my ability to grow tall to Grady Reavis if it is possible for him to use it.
I, Clara Sue Forrest, will my place in the Beta Club to Geraldine York. She can probably do a better job than I have done.
I, Carmen Alberta Greene, bequeath my love for basketball to Gail Davis to add to her own love for it.
I, Phyllis Ann Greene, will my place as bus driver to my brother Floyd to keep in the family "old 32".
I, Evelyn Mae Griffin, bequeath my ability to keep the class well supplied with "Kleenex" to any girl whose father owns a store so that it won't be so expensive for her.
I, George Cleveland Haire, leave my ability to always own something to ride in to William Foster.
I, Billie Jean Harmon, will my position as editor of Hi Life to anyone who can get the copies out on time.
I, John Henry Hodgson, will my serious manner of saying things, to Harry Osborne.
I, James Clyde Hutchins, leave my ability to make good grades after being absent so much to Eugene Poplin.
I, Betty Lou Ijames, will my basketball suit to Ann Owens. I hope it brings her good luck.
I, Letty Sue Ijames, will my love for sports to Barbara Everhardt.
I, Kenneth Avery Lanier, will my ability to get along with teachers to Jack Naylor.
I, Thomas Flynn Meroney, Jr., leave my knowledge of trains to any interested boy.
I, Josephine Ruth Miller, bequeath my ability to have friends to Marcle Thomas.
I, Harold Dean Murray, leave my secret power to have a steady girl friend to Nathan Smith. I doubt if he will need any help.
I, Harrell Powell, Jr., will my witty disposition to Edwin Waters if he will keep the school awake.
I, Mary Susan Rankin, bequeath my knowledge to the junior class to be divided equally among them.
I, Ann Dean Robertson, will my fear of initiations to anyone who belongs to any club.
I, Everette Gray Sain, will my wavy hair to Paul Richardson.
I, Howard Marshall Sain, will my nickname, "Bulldog" to Bill Melton if he deserves such a name.
I, Donald Eugene Smith, leave my heel taps to Billy Wyatt, hoping his teachers will be patient.
I, Kathryn Melinda Smith, will my freckles to Rachel Boger, provided she will return them when she no longer wants them.
I, Betty Ruth Spencer, bequeath my pleasing personality to Betty Angell.
I, James Albert Taylor, will my habit of always being late for school to Duke James.
I, Richard Keith Tutterow, leave my power to get along with girls to any boy who is unable to do so.
I, Jerrylene Vick, leave my pranks to all the sophomore girls, so that school won't be so dull for them.
I, Charles Leroy Williams, leave my place in agriculture to Gwyn Boger.
I, Margaret Julia Wright, bequeath my giggles to Margaret Edwards to mix with her own.

The members of the graduating class of 1953, do hereby proclaim this to be the only valid statement of our Last Will and Testament.
